

Inclusive kitchens for greater independence
and accessibility

Introducing CareKitchen

We believe that a kitchen is the heart of a home - a space where everyone should have the opportunity to experience an easily accessible kitchen.

Our approach to designing a kitchen for individuals with limited mobility revolves around the principle of full accessibility. We understand that true inclusivity goes beyond meeting basic standards; it involves creating environments that cater to the diverse needs and preferences of individuals with varying abilities.

The concept of full accessibility encompasses a range of considerations, from mobility and reach to sensory experiences. We meticulously plan the layout to ensure unobstructed pathways and incorporate features such as adjustable countertops and accessible appliances.
